Orange County Performing Arts Center

Known for its striking architecture and flawless acoustics, the Orange County Performing Arts Center is a magnificent venue for cultural and entertainment experiences. In its two theaters, the 3,000-seat Segerstrom Hall and intimate 250-seat Founders Hall, The Center presents the world's greatest ballet companies, Broadway shows, concerts by renowned orchestras and classical chamber ensembles, grand opera, award-winning jazz and cabaret artists, family entertainment and many other special events.

The Renée and Henry Segerstrom Concert Hall and Samueli Theater

Sophisticated, classic, timeless - each word applies perfectly to the remarkable theatre facility that joins the Orange County Performing Arts Center's current arts complex. It houses the 2,000-seat Renée and Henry Segerstrom Concert Hall, 500-seat multi-use Samueli Theater and an education center. It is the home of Orange County's Pacific Symphony, the Philharmonic Society of Orange County and the Pacific Chorale. The beautiful design is the work of internationally respected architect Cesar Pelli in concert with the dean of American acousticians, Russell Johnson of Artec.

The hall features a magnificent glass facade curving gracefully across the exterior. As they enter, patrons will have a preview of the dramatic, multi-tiered foyer and, once inside, enjoy a view from all levels to The Center's existing hall and its signature sculpture, Fire Bird. Guests in the existing Center will be able to see into the magnificent new structure's lobby, public restaurant and private donor room. The lobby ceiling, finished in silver leaf, will soar 80 feet above street level. A beautiful work of architectural jewelry will mirror the spiral staircase -- 300 individual silver lavalieres are suspended in graduated lengths and tipped with individual star-like fixtures.

Samueli Theater has its own distinctive entrance with large frosted glass panels illuminated from behind and producing a subtle glow against the building's white limestone facade. The spectacular outdoor plaza created by Peter Walker and Partners unites the new venues with the current Center and South Coast Repertory, creating the Segerstrom Center for the Arts.

South Coast Repertory

For more than 40 years, South Coast Repertory has challenged and entertained theatergoers with exceptional plays commissioned from new and established writers, as well as works drawn from classic and modern theatre repertoires. Founded in 1964 by David Emmes and Martin Benson, who continue to serve as artistic directors, SCR offers a ten-month season, September through June. SCR also presents a variety of outreach and educational programs, including Theatre for Young Audiences and Their Families. The Theater Conservatory offers acting classes for youth, teens, and adults.

The masterful hand of architect Cesar Pelli is also evident in the inspired creation of SCR's Folino Theatre Center, which houses the 507-seat Segerstrom Stage, the 336-seat Julianne Argyros Stage and the 94 seat Nicholas Studio.

The Bridge of Gardens and The Garden Terrace by lead designer Kathryn Gustafson

Spanning Bear Street to connect South Coast Plaza's Crate and Barrel/Macy's Home Store Wing to the east side of the Plaza. The Bridge of Gardens is constructed of stainless and galvanized steel, with a partially covered canopy.

Kathryn Gustafson was born in Yakimo, Washington and is a Paris-educated landscape designer and environmental artist.

Unity Bridge

One of the most satisfying ways for pedestrians to cross over Bristol Street in safety and serenity is via the Unity Bridge, which connects South Coast Plaza and Town Center Park.

Park Tower Lobby and Louvered Wings Wings by the architectural firm Murphy/Jahn

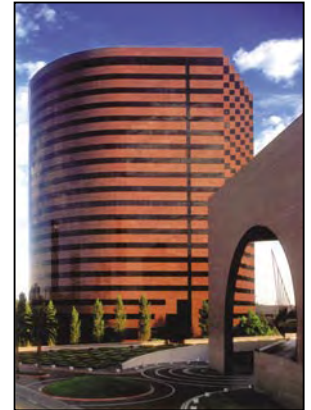

Built in the early 1970s, the need for renovation of Park Tower gave Murphy/Jahn the opportunity to reinvigorate the building coupled with a landscaping revision aimed at unifying the complex. Demarking a crossing of axis, the new lobby resolves the creation of place with the facilitation of passage. Simultaneously spatial and open, the lobby is flanked on each side by expansive louvered wings, which extend the new image and envelope.

Located at Park Tower.

Soaring Towers

Constructed of granite, stainless steel, and shimmering glass, even the office towers situated in the Costa Mesa Theater and Art District make strong artistic statements about the locale. For example, the elegant sheen distinguishing the 21-story Center Tower is created by the unique Napoleon red granite that clads this remarkable edifice located adjacent to the Orange County Performing Arts Center. In addition to his vision for the District's remarkable artistic venues, architect Cesar Pelli also designed the distinctive steel-clad Plaza Tower, a towering presence rising 21 stories. The glass-clad trio of office towers at Pacific Arts Plaza offers dazzling reflections of the California Scenario, a distinctive sculpture garden created by renowned sculptor Isamu Noguchi.
